IT IS ORDERED that:

The Parties will exchange by July 20, 2007, the information required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1) and D. Del. LR 16.1.

2. Discovery.

(a) Discovery will be needed on the following subjects:

At this time Guardian expects it will need discovery to support its claims of infringement, willful infringement, damages, and to rebut InnoLux's defenses and counterclaims. Guardian's required discovery will include discovery of InnoLux and its employees, agents, suppliers and customers relating to InnoLux's activities in selling, offering for sale, manufacturing, using, and/or importing infringing LCD products, as well as InnoLux's alleged inducement of infringement and contributory infringement.

That discovery will include discovery from the plaintiff and certain non-parties.

The above lists of subjects are for the Court's planning purposes only and are not necessarily exclusive and will not form the basis for any restriction on subjects on which discovery shall be permitted. The above lists are also not an indication or finding by the Court, or an admission by any Party, that any particular discovery is (or is not) relevant or permissible.

(b) All fact discovery shall be commenced in time to be completed by November 7, 2008.

- (1) Document production shall be completed on or before May 7, 2008. Documents will be produced by both Parties in a timely manner throughout the document production period, not merely on this date.
- (2) Maximum of 30 interrogatories by each Party to any other Party.
- (3) In the absence of agreement among the Parties, contention interrogatories, if filed, shall first be addressed by the Party with the burden of proof no later than the date established for the completion of document production, with the responsive answers due within thirty (30) days thereof. The adequacy of all such interrogatory answers shall be judged by the level of detail each Party provides; i.e., the more detail a Party provides, the more detail a Party shall receive.
- (4) Maximum of 60 requests for admission by each Party to any other Party, not including requests directed to the admissibility and authentication of documents and the proper translations of foreign documents.
- (5) In the absence of agreement among the Parties or by order of the Court, no deposition (other than those noticed under Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6)) shall be scheduled prior to the scheduled date for completion of document production. This limitation does not apply to third party discovery.

- (6) Maximum of 130 deposition hours of fact and 30(b)(6) witnesses by each Party. Each deposition of an individual for whom English is their first language shall be made available for only one deposition of up to seven consecutive hours. Each deposition of an individual for whom English is not their first language shall be made available for only one deposition of up to ten consecutive hours, to take place on consecutive days. The length of time 30(b)(6) designees shall be available for examination will be determined by the Parties at the time the deposition is scheduled, taking into consideration the number of topics to be addressed by the designee. The limits on the length of depositions may be modified by agreement of the Parties or by order of the Court, for good cause shown.

(c) Expert discovery shall be commenced in time to be completed by January 30, 2009.

- (1) Expert reports on issues for which the Parties have the burden of proof are due November 21, 2008. Rebuttal expert reports are due December 19, 2008.
- (2) Expert Depositions shall be limited to a maximum of 9 hours per each expert witness unless extended by agreement of the Parties.

If the decision is to rely on such advice, the scope of discovery shall include the materials provided by InnoLux to its counsel and whatever other materials related to the issues in dispute that InnoLux had in its possession at the time the advice was sought.
